Get Carried Away

Has frequent flying done a number on your skin? Well, you can experience a first-class facial wherever you go with the Air Repair Kit (visagestudio.com), clinically formulated to combat the harsh elements in the "air up there." Specifically designed to "alleviate the dry, dulling effects of not only aircraft cabin air, but changes in environment that travel generally causes," says founder Denise Spanek, this five-piece travel kit, which includes a Soothing Facial Cleansing Milk and Complexion Quenching Facial Mist, will keep your face glowing long after you've landed. So it'll be a smooth ride after all—for your skin, anyway.
